Accidents

On Monday at 3:15 p.m., Carol Iannelli, 55 Lake st., age 14, was injured in a collision with a car at the intersection at Mass. ave., in front of the Arlington National Bank.

She was treated at Symmes hospital by Dr. Sanchez for an injury to the right leg.

Three accidents, involving seven injured persons, were also reported on the police blotter over the weekend. A collision took place at the intersection of Park ave., and Wachusett ave., on Saturday afternoon. Listed as injured was Generino A. Luongo, 53, of Lex.; Elihu Petnov, 46, of Lex.; Frances Petnov, 39, of Lex.; Judy Petnov, 15, of Lex.; and Robert Petnov, 7. All were treated at Symmes.

Also listed as injured and planning to consult their own doctor were Eugene Luongo, 16, and Pat Luongo, 27, both of Lexington.

Another accident on Monday morning, at 8:17 a.m. resulted in injuries to Julie Cammarata, 44, who was treated at Symmes hospital by Dr. Sanchez for back, head and leg injuries, as a result of a two car crash at the intersection of Mass. ave., and the entrance of the Arlington Five Cent Savings parking lot.

The winter's first major storm hit Arlington and New England communities at the worst possible time for financial reasons, on the week-end.

The cost of the storm, according to figures released to this paper by Town Manager Edward C. Monahan, hit $21,532.03. This covers the time from Saturday through Monday at 5 p.m.

The break-down includes, $9,254.52 for plowing; $6,497.56 for snow removal; $4,122.48 for sanding, and salting; and $1,657.47 for equipment maintenance.

The equipment used for plowing included 25 pieces of Town-owned equipment, plus 11 vehicles owned by contractors. Removal operations involved 25 Town-owned vehicles and 17 owned by contractors, including 4 tractors.

The storm, classified as a blizzard, left a total accumulation of between 6 and 8 inches in Arlington, while temperatures fell and heavy winds caused drifting.

Week-end storms boost the overall cost of plowing because workers must be paid time and one-half for Saturday and double time for Sunday. Town Manager Monahan stated that the regular Town employees were sufficient to handle the operation and there was no need to hire additional workers.

Abutters Oppose Service Station

Opposition was registered to the Board of Selectmen on Monday night by over thirty residents of the area at No. 93 Lowell st., where John M. and Edmond H. White propose the construction of a filling and service station.

The hearing was held in connection with the application for a license to use the parcel of land situated on the northerly side of Lowell at No. 93 and the point emphasized by those in opposition was the present condition of heavy traffic which would be complicated by the installation of a filling station on the site involved.

Appearing with the abutters and residents and registering opposition were five Town Meeting members, including Werner Carlson, Ronald McCall, Harry McCabe, William Carey and Robert Lemmon.

Two Arlington Residents Wounded in Viet-Nam

Staff Sgt. Paul S. Guglietta, 67 Palmer st., on duty with an airmobile heavy mortar platoon of the 1st Cavalry Division which has been in combat with North Vietnamese army regulars on a jungle mountain, was wounded recently in action.

The Arlington man was visited in An Khe, South Vietnam by Cong. Torbert Macdonald of this district while awaiting evacuation to a hospital. The Advocate made arrangements for Cong. Macdonald to meet with Mr. and Mrs. Guglietta last Sunday during his scheduled appearance at the American Legion Post in Arlington. The parents of the wounded soldier were thrilled to hear directly from Cong. Macdonald of their son's condition and high morale.

Young Guglietta had recently written to the Boston Record American, confirming the opinion of the American soldiers. "We've got to stop these 'Comms' now before they walk down the streets of Boston, and the other cities of our U.S."

"We did not win our freedom by demonstrating with signs and pickets against the Red Coats, but with shot and powder and the blood and courage of our forefathers who fired the 'shot heard round the world'."

Also wounded in active duty in Vietnam was James Hodgdon, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Hodgdon of 109 Wright st., who wrote the following letter to his parents.

On Dec. 21 we received a telegram that our son, PFC James W. Hodgdon, USMC, has been wounded in action against the Viet Cong while on operation "Harvest Moon" with the Marines south of Da Nang. He has since been evacuated to the U. S. Naval hospital on Guam, and is coming along fine.

A letter received from Jim seemed to be very descriptive of the type of warfare now going on and we thought it might be of interest to your readers. Parts of the letter are noted below:

For about five days the battalion kept moving from hill to hill, chasing the VC all over the area, but never getting close enough for any action. On the sixth day, we started to walk out of the Stock Split at Arl. National

At the annual meeting of the Arlington National Bank on Jan. 10, Karl E. Weiss, president, reported that 1965 was a year of "growth and progress" with deposits, loans, earnings and total resources reaching new highs.

The big news at the meeting was the announcement of a stock dividend in the form of a four-to-one stock split, pending the effective date of a certificate of approval to be issued by the Comptroller of the Currency.

This would also involve selling 1,500 new shares at $80 per share. Of the $120,000 thus realized, $37,500 would be added to the bank's capital, bring it to $337,500 and $82,500 would be added to surplus.

The Pause for Safety - - -

The current pedestrian safety campaign being waged throughout the Commonwealth and conducted in Arlington by Chief of Police Albert E. Ryan and Safety Officer Sgt. Arthur Guarente met with new emphasis in Town this week when a girl was struck by a car while crossing one of the busiest intersections in Town.

The combination of bad driving conditions and hazardous walking conditions, to be expected for the next few months of winter weather, brings to mind the need for young and old alike to be alert to the dangers of crossing all streets, especially the busy intersections.

Traffic lights are not the answer, since the human element plus weather conditions, still present a problem to both motorists and pedestrians.

Motorists should be most cautious at intersections and anticipate the flow of pedestrian traffic. It is as evident to the most casual observer that motorists start almost immediately upon the change of the light from red to green; and, by the same token, pedestrians start immediately when the "walk" sign flashes.

In both cases, there should be a moment of caution wherein both the motorist and the pedestrian should check on the possibility of danger in moving too soon.

Officials warn and we agree, one fleeting moment of haste may result in tragedy. Several ideas have been explored on the pedestrian safety including, signs, signals and painted crosswalks. However, the burden remains on the human factor. It is imperative that pedestrians and motorists exercise more care than usual during the winter when visibility may be impaired by stormy weather and the hazardous road conditions heighten the possibility of skidding or loss of control of a car.

People are always in a hurry; but, when crossing the street, follow that old precept, "Stop and Look". We must train ourselves to observe "the pause for safety".

(Correspondence)

To the editor,

I am a high school junior at Arlington High. Because of my concern of the response of many Americans towards the administration's policy - on Viet Nam, I wrote an essay describing the sincere philosophy of patriotism versus chauvinism and traitorism. I intend to submit it to our school paper for publication and am hopeful that it finds a place in your excellent newspaper. The essay is as follows.

Viet Nam - Nationalism, Chauvinism or Traitorism?

Any individual who is sincerely patriotic proves it solely by the sacrifices he is prepared to make for his country. There is no such thing as a national sentiment which is opportunistic. No more than there is any nationalism which embraces the classes. Shouting "Hurray!" proves nothing and gives no right to call oneself national, if behind it, there does not stand a magnanimous, loving concern for the preservation of a universally compatible cause.

There is ground for pride in the American people only if we no longer tolerate these sickening and disgusting anti-war demonstrations. But even a minute fraction, which is degenerate and depraved, contributes to a decadence, which causes a stench in this nation.

Only when a nation is psychologically stable in all its members, can it begin to have a right to national pride. And the highest pride can only be achieved by a person who is capable of visualizing the greatness of the United States cause.

An intimate coupling of nationalism and a profound understanding and desire for international justice must be implanted in all our citizenry. Only then can Americans arise, linked to one another by a great chain forged with a common purpose and a common rationale, which will create an unshakable and invincible nation.

Our fear of chauvinism is a symbol of its impotence. Not only lacking any exuberant force, but even finding it distasteful, it no longer demonstrates the prerogatives of a great mission.

The bourgeois virtues of pacifism can only be analogous to a deprivation level of traitorism.

America is moving with great strides toward revolutionary elevations. Therefore, the question before us can only be whether to continue a pledge and preserve the national honor or let this nation be undermined by a fanatical cabal of subversive degenerates. If we set ourselves on the former path, then only can we be the victors.

Sincerely yours,
Robert Beauchamp
15 Radcliffe rd.

Dear Sir:

I wish to extend to the staff and the readers of your newspaper the sincere thanks and appreciation of the Post Office Department and the employees of the Boston Postal District for the splendid assistance provided during the Christmas mail season.

This year we tried a special promotion of the banding of Local, Massachusetts and Out of State mail. It resulted in a great success. This never could have happened without the wonderful support which we received from the press and other means of communications. Your newspaper played a major part and we are most grateful for the help you rendered.

We must mention that the public cooperation in this program was beyond our anticipation, and we are most appreciative. We hope you may convey this message to your readers.

Sincerely yours,
Ephraim Martin
Postmaster

To the editor:

I was delighted to read in a recent issue of the paper that Dr. Robert Burke was going to run for election to the Arlington School committee. He would make an excellent successor to Dr. Richard Baker, who is resigning after ten years of dedicated service.

It is gratifying to find that when one capable Arlingtonian feels the need to step down, there is always another ready to pick up the challenge.

I've known Bob Burke for many years and know him to be an earnest and public spirited citizen. As the father of four children, he will certainly be eager to help retain the fine school system we have in Arlington.

Mrs. Carl K. Freyer

To the editor:

Please print this letter as it means a lot to me and other people concerned.

I want to give thanks to the Arlington Fire Department and Police Department.

Also to say the people in Arlington are very lucky to have men in both Departments who really know their job.

I had a serious heart attack on Feb. 9, 1965, and due to the fast response to telephone calls, I'm alive today to give thanks to these men.

It is nice to know if you need help as in my case, you can get it.

Yours truly

COLLINS CORNER

The writer received some mail from wives, commenting on the article last week about the expansion of Pro Football T.V. and they were very much in favor of cutting it down. Well, the writer took a peek himself at the game in Miami last Sunday. And, it gave him a backward look at some games he had witnessed at Board of Trade Outings, when the competition was between the 'married men' and the 'single men'. But, about 60,000 folks attended and millions more sat in and watched, so there is nothing that succeeds like success. However, the weather was a bit warmer than we had in Arlington. But, it was very pretty up here, and as we enjoy our 'egg nog' bowls they can have their 'orange' ones. So, all you 'ladies of the home' prepare for another 'kissin' cousin' spectacular next Sunday. Don't miss it.

And now with the snow up here, it is nice to read all the ads about 'come on down' and take a dip in the ocean. So, quite a few do go down. Some of us are a little jealous, but one wonders how many, when asked 'where do you come from', say Arlington. It's a 10 to 1 bet they say Boston. Oh sure, it's natural because it is a city that's known all over the world, but when they are home and settled, it is still 10 to 1 they would never admit they were citizens of that horrid city.

While we are on this travel bit, let us take a ordinary customer, who asks about the prices, etc. and then says 'how about tipping?' Well that's a good question because at this moment in our state the word 'taxes' is about the most important issue one can mention. But, in our wide, wide world, there is an unofficial tax that is known as 'tipping'.

Today, if a group arranges a sizeable party, the tax and gratuity are included in the cost. While the law demands the tax, the gratuity is for service rendered. Or, in other words, a 'tip'. In most cases it is the proper thing to do, but sometimes it makes a person wonder.

He wonders, if say a taxi driver takes you to your destination and is given a tip, would that same gentleman tip a librarian who spends about 15 or 20 minutes looking up some book for him? Would a waitress tip a shoe salesman who spends considerable time fitting the lady to a pair of shoes? Would a bar tender who receives a tip from the 'guy' on the other side (who many times earns less money) tip a harrassed clerk in the exchange desk of a department store, when exchanging a Christmas tie that he didn't like? One wonders.

Does a barber tip the fellow at the filling station when he buys 5 gallons of gas and has him look under the hood, and polish his windows? One wonders.

But, there is one tip to keep in mind, and that is, no matter how nice or cooperative, a minion of the law is to you, don't offer him a reward as both of you may be up before 'his Honor' in the morning. It's sometimes a funny world with only one side to a street.

A story is told of 3 police officers sitting in the last pew on Sunday morning, and when the collection plate came around they all flashed their badges. 'Tis said it happened way out West years ago.

Here's another 'tip', - keep tipping and maybe you'll get some reciprocal action one of these days. Never can tell.

Menotomy men aren't happy with the plowing of snow this year.

MAT mention this last week after the first little storm wizzed through town.

But, there was more "wailing" Saturday and Sunday by local folks who figured plowing started too late hereabouts.

The storm's getting too far ahead, before the blades begin to clear the way.

They told me that.

Now that no one wants to talk about green crosswalks any more because they can't be seen anyway, more and more the talk swings to "walk and don't walk" problems at the lights.

Not enough time to cross, and what to do when half way across and the lights turn red with that glaring, challenging "don't you dare walk another step".

Now, that big arm is stretched across Pleasant st. to hold the new lights, the man says.

Menotomy's tax rate rose from $50.40 in 1950 to $59.20 five years later. Not bad, sir. ($8.80 increase in half a decade).

But get this. In the following decade it skyrocketed to $97.60, and increase of $38.40. Four times the increase of the previous five years.

In those ten years, we've built the Thompson, the Dallen, the Stratton schools.

We've added to the high school twice and now to the Stratton.

We've also had to staff all these new buildings, plus raising the salaries of our regular teachers.

To the editor

Dear Sir:

Occasionally a parent has the satisfaction of reading an article pertaining to what's right about our schools. This was certainly true for parents of students attending Junior High East when they read of the results of the International Math Test given two years ago on which the then 8th graders at the East made such remarkable scores.

This is a credit not only to the students, but also to their teachers at both the elementary and junior high level, and they should be so commended.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Joseph A. Fiore

New Lantern Room Opens at Cottage Crest

WALTHAM MAYOR Richard F. Dacey congratulates the DeVincent family on the Grand Opening of the New Lantern Room at the Cottage Crest Restaurant. L. to r., Mrs. J. DeVincent, Jr., Mrs. J. DeVincent, Sr., John DeVincent, and Mayor Dacey.

Greater Boston's newest room for dining-out enjoyment, formally opened this week at the Cottage Crest restaurant, Trapelo rd., Waltham.

On hand to extend their best wishes to manager John J. DeVincent, Jr. were a number of civic dignitaries, including Waltham's mayor, Richard F. Dacey, Jr.

The Lantern Room, with a seating capacity of 90, was designed in early American decor and features casual dining in a relaxed lounge-type atmosphere. Background is provided by an organ from Tuesdays through Saturdays. The room contains black leather chairs, red settees surrounding heavy wooden tables. The focal point of the red carpeted room is a handsome brick wall flanked by carved wooden spindles and gas lantern fixtures.

The Lantern Room addition to the Cottage Crest completes a five-year expansion program for the Trapelo rd. landmark, under the management of DeVincent. In that time, he has added the Wagon Wheel banquet room, the Fireside room, and the Flintlock room. Other rooms include the Colonial Dining room and the Eagle lounge.

To keep pace with the recent expansion, the kitchen has been doubled in size and modern food service equipment installed. In addition, the parking lot has been enlarged and service staff increased substantially. The 35-year-old restaurant began as a tea room, operated by the late John J. DeVincent, Sr. and his wife Sophie DeVincent.

Key management personnel include Ralph Abram, chef; Ted Oldak, maitre d'; Jean Campbell, hostess in charge; and Ruby Porter, evening hostess.

Arlington's Barbershop Quartet group will be among the many excellent entertainers who will appear at the Variety Show to be held at the Lowe auditorium, Saturday night, for the benefit of the Arlington Chapter for Retarded Children.

The local "Barbershoppers" will sponsor a Variety Show to benefit Arlington Chapter for Retarded Children, Saturday night, Jan. 15, 8 p.m. at Arlington High School Auditorium.

"Rex Trailer" of WBZ-TV Channel 4 "Boom Town" show will be the Master of Ceremonies. Rex Trailer has offered his exceptional professional talents and personality to many activities which have benefited retarded children. His participation in this show in the key roll will set the pace for an evening filled with entertainment and enjoyment.

Robert E. Beals, Jr. will direct the "Arlingtons" — the chorus of the Arlington Chapter of S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A., Inc.

Another main attraction will be the St. Agnes Troubadours, the chorus of 35 trained and beautiful voices of young boys who appeared at the Vatican Pavilion of the New York World's Fair and who are trained by the Rev. Paul J. McLaughlin of St. Agnes Church.

The program will also include such talents as: Mrs. Mary Bertagna, of Arlington, former "Rockette", dancing; Barbara Jean Polakow of Somerville, dancing; "The Others", a folk song singing group; "4 on the Beat" quartet; Mrs. Judy Dignan of Arlington, singing; Mrs. Nancy Winegar and Stewart LaCrosse from Waltham; "Roarin' Twenties" by Mrs. Peggy McCarron and Mrs. Lou Reeves of Somerville; and the Paratore Children from Belmont. Red and Gray Jottings

by Mark Tuller

This year the Student Council is going to market a record, made especially for the High School, entitled, "The Sounds of A.H.S." The record, if it sells strongly, could well become a permanent project.

The record is being put together mainly by chief recording engineer Randy White (and his tape recorder). He has already captured for posterity such inimitable sounds as the cafeteria cheering for a broken plate, and Maria Karagianis and Dieder O'Flaherty leading their cheerleaders at football and basketball games.

According to Student Council president Frank Ciano, the record is coming along nicely, and soon will be ready for market. While the Council does not hope to reach WBZ's top ten, the members are quite certain that the record will at least be one of the most popular cuts ever made for Arlington High.

Most of the Seniors took College Board achievement tests Saturday. These are the tests which measure the level of a student's competence in a certain area. The French test, for example, measures French achievement, while the Advanced Math test is apparently designed to measure, for most students, proficiency in Ancient Egyptian Hieroglyphics.

Meanwhile, the seniors are still awaiting their scores for the Boards which they took in early December. The tests are marked on a scale of 800; eight hundred is a perfect score. No one receives below two hundred. The Board seems to feel that anyone capable of fling out all the grids and computer forms correctly must have earned at least 200 points.

On the bulletin board outside the main office of the High School, there is a "social calendar" which lists all of the important school events for the month. Sample entries include: "Hockey Game again at Waltham; 2nd ice"; "Dance for March of Dimes"; "Hopefully, anyone who is interested in the workings of his school has only to go to the calendar to find out what's happening."

The Calendar was originally started by Arlington's Youth Council, which is composed of a cross-section of Arlington's young people. One calendar was placed in the High School, under the direction of Maria Karagianis; while Sue Giroux supervised a similar calendar at Arlington Catholic.

The project is sponsored by the Student Council, but the idea is still the same. With a growing support from the student body, the Calendar is on its way to becoming an integral part of A.H.S.

LWV Studies Local Poverty Problems

This month the Arlington League of Women Voters is concentrating on a national item — "The evaluation of policies and programs in the U.S., to provide for all people, equality of opportunity in education and employment."

On Jan. 6, at the Robbins Junior Library hall, four speakers discussed their work in a panel entitled, "What's the Score in the Poverty War?" James Taylor, a special worker, described the problems of a low-income community; Jay Jackson, a Boston University student, reported views of his experiences as a tutor of children and summer tutoring of migrant Puerto Ricans under the auspices of the Commonwealth Service Corps.

Also, Jerry Hearnsum, one of twelve VISTA workers in Boston, gave a first-hand portrait of working at the Boston State hospital with mentally disturbed people; and Gail Donovan, of Arlington, a High School teacher, spoke of a special program for urban teaching in Roxbury.

The committee prepared and mailed copies of a report, "A Survey of Arlington's Public Welfare, Employment, Education, Recreation, Housing, Civil Rights and Social Action," to all League members, and has others available upon request.

Next week at four unit meetings, there will be a presentation and discussion on this topic.

The meetings will be held on Tuesday, Jan. 18, 9:15 a.m., at the home of Mrs. Daniel Healy, 36 Jason st.; Wednesday, Jan. 19, 8 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Richard MacDougall, 366 Ridge st.; Thursday, Jan. 20, 9:15 a.m., at the home of Mrs. Robert Lynch, 7 Adams st.; and Thursday, Jan. 20, 8 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Robert McCloskey, 243 Pleasant st.

The members of the Human Resources committee are Miss Doris Atwater, Mrs. Earl Bolton, Mrs. Sherwood Gorbach, Mrs. Howard Grant, Mrs. Irwin Jacobs, Mrs. Peter Margarita, Mrs. Richard Mela, Mrs. Paul McCarthy, Mrs. George Rogers, Mrs. Dietmar Seyferth, and Mrs. Bernard Kleban, chairman.

the lowlands. It was a total of 20 miles and it took four days. My squad was up front and we had just come out of a large village and started across open rice paddies. The VC hit us with mortar, heavy machine gun fire and small arms fire. I have an automatic rifle and was on the right of the machine gun. I fired about 80 rounds into one machine gun position but they were dug in and behind bamboo trees so I don't know if I got any. My new fireteam leader got hit 4 times in the arms and legs, and is now back in the States.The round that got me had my name on it but my magazine saved me. The round went through the bottom of it, blowing the bottom out, and grazing my right fore-two fingers. I was sent to the are three schools in the area, including St. James, Jr. High that the traffic supervisor has her hands full protecting the children as they cross.One woman present stated that in her opinion the present situation would be improved by the construction of a station. She described a situation of illegally parked cars on both sides of Lowell st., which creates a hazardous condition and she contended that the location of the filling station as proposed would eliminate such parking.Chairman Greeley called for hands of those in favor of those present so answered.

During the discussion, Se-

SPORTS

by Hal O'Brien

The B.C. followers and grads turned out in full force to honor the great Sugar Bowl team of 25 years ago last week.

Arlington resident and high school teacher Henry Toczylowski blocking back on that great undefeated team. Since graduating at the Heights "Hammering" Hank as he was called then has coached at Saugus high and here at Arlington High until he gave way to Arlington present coach and B.C. grad Eddie Burns. His four sons all play football like their illustrious Dad.

Henry played at Arlington high before enrolling at West Point.

Charlie is now at Choate and was one of the best high school hockey players in the State as well as a fine football player.

Martin was the quarterback on the freshman football team last fall and plays hockey as well and the youngest boy Jim plays both hockey and football very well.

The B.C. All-American will be watching the Toczylowski boys in sports for a good many years.

Mike Holovak the Patriots coach and proprietor of Holovak and Coughlin Sporting Goods store here on the Ave. was unable to attend as he was coaching the North All Stars in Mobile Alabama. Mike used to spend a lot of time here in the off season. Lots of folks are starting to regard "Iron Mike" as he was called at B.C. one of the "Townies".

The "W" teams seem to be able to win over Coach Red Hills basketball team. Waltham Red's home town defeated the locals 42-39 and Watertown won 71-42.

The J. V. basketball team defeated Watertown in a real thriller 43-38 as Dave Glenn scored 11 points.

Collins of the J.V. team showed that he has the makings of a good rebounder as he took 19 rebounds and scored 8 points. Against Waltham the J.V. team was outscored 57-19.

The weekend fall of snow sent many Ski enthusiasts to their favorite slopes. National Ski Week this year is Jan. 21 to 30.

ARTHUR VIANO

A high requiem mass was sung for Arthur F. Viano, 82, of 51 Winchester rd., pioneer motion picture exhibitor in Massachusetts Jan. 12 at 10 a.m. in St. Agnes church. Prominent theater owner and real estate developer in Lexington, Arlington and Somerville since 1920, Mr. Viano died Saturday Jan. 8 at Symmes Hospital in Arlington. He was buried at St. Paul's Cemetery.

Mr. Viano, who had been active in the motion picture industry 45 years, built the Teele Square Theater in Somerville in 1920. He operated a chain of theaters in Arlington and Somerville.

His most renowned theater was Viano's Somerville Stock Company where many famous personalities got their early training in the 1920s.

Mr. Viano was a member of the Arlington Rotary Club and a director of the Central Co-operative Bank of Somerville.

A widower, he leaves two sons, Arthur A. of Belmont and Robert J. of Lexington; a daughter, Mrs. Eleanor McManus of Winchester; and two sisters, Mrs. Susan Re of West Medford and Mrs. Emma Fenochetti of Woburn.

A.H.S. Romps After Slow Start

After being held scoreless in the first period by a scrappy Waltham team Coach Eddie Burns' undefeated hockey team went on to win 6-1.

Early in the second period Steve Donnelly gave Arlington its first of five goals in the period when he scored on a power play. Glen Hale scored again in less than a minute when he sent the disc into the Waltham net as both teams were scrambling for possession in front of the Waltham net.

Fifty-five seconds later Steve Donnelly had his second goal of the period when he converted a rebound for the third goal of the period. Tom Walsh had the fourth goal and Dick Havern the leading scorer of the Arlington team had the fifth goal.

Glen Hale scored his second goal of the game in the last period.

Waltham's only goal was scored by left winger Edgar Bastrache who went the length of the ice to score and prevent Dom Apprille from posting a shut out.

Newton beat Rindge Tech and has the same record as Arlington 5-0-0 and shares the top spot in the league with the locals.

This Saturday Arlington faces Rindge which has one of the league's top goalies in Tom Jennings. Jennings held powerful Newton to 2 goals last week.

On the 19th Arlington faces Newton in a game that will go a long way towards deciding what team will finish in the top spot. Newton without the two Toomey boys does not seem quite as strong but then again Arlington with Charlie Toczylowski is not the same team either.

This game is slated to be the best game of the Suburban League season and it is too bad that it is being played on a Wednesday afternoon as many loyal fans will not be able to attend who take in all the Saturday games.

Local Volunteer Reports Red Cross Service

On hand to meet the M.S. Batory which arrived in Boston on Dec. 29, with 600 sponsored Polish immigrants was Red Cross volunteer Kenneth E. Cameron, 116 Jason st.

As Disaster Service Chairman of Arlington, he participated along with 80 Greater Boston volunteers in a 14-hour operation which provided hospitality, health services and food, at the request of the American National Red Cross.

Red Cross activities in support of the first immigrant ship to dock in Boston in 20 years included nursing services for mothers and infants; first aid; a hot meal; and box lunches for the journey by rail to points west. Hospitality was extended in the form of comfort items for the adults and friendship kits, packed by the Junior Red Cross, for all children.

Recapping the day-long events Cameron stated, "No one will ever be able to capture or record the many hundreds of isolated, fleeting events of service, assistance and help, that were extended throughout the day in the vast areas of the Commonwealth Pier. Suffice it to say, that veteran volunteers of the Boston Chapter described the operation as one of the most warm, human, emotional, and satisfying experiences of their service with Red Cross."

Your R. PHARMACIST SPEAKS

By Hugo A. Greco, Reg. Ph. The home medicine cabinet provides a great source of relief for many ailments, but it can, if unwisely maintained, cause no small amount of grief.

Unfortunately, some cabinets hold poisonous articles within the reach of small, curious hands. Then, too, there is always the likelihood that an adult will carelessly or accidentally pick up a wrong bottle and we have the makings of an unfortunate accident.

If there are youngsters in the household, be careful where you store drugs, candy-coated aspirin and household poisons. As for the adults, make it a practice to read labels carefully when seeking relief in the medicine cabinet.

It is a good idea, also, to make it a practice to trade where prescriptions are a specialty. For all of your medical needs, depend on RAWSON PHARMACY, 201 Broadway, Arlington, Phone MI 8-1991. Air Force Seeks Officer Trainees

Applications for acceptance into the United States Air Force Officer Training School commissioning program will again be accepted beginning in January, 1966, Sergeant Dave Woodford, local Air Force recruiter, announced today.

Enrollment in the program, which has been closed for the past 90 days, will be open immediately to college graduates, without any obligation incurring upon applicants prior to their acceptance in the program, Sgt. Woodford said. College seniors within 210 days of graduation may also apply for acceptance in the program, he said.

According to Sgt. Woodford, though the majority of applicants selected will be those eligible for pilot and navigator training, a limited number of applicants may be selected for technical and non-technical career fields.

Officer training school is a three month accelerated course conducted at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, upon completion of which graduates are awarded commissions as Second Lieutenants in the United States Air Force.

Applicants with uncorrected 20-20 vision who qualify are eligible for training as Air Force pilots, while those with 20-50 vision, correctable to 20-20 are eligible for navigator training, he said.

Other applicants, including women, may be considered for technical and non-technical jobs as officers in the Air Force.

Information concerning applying for the program may be obtained by contacting Sgt. Woodford at the Air Force recruiting office, Union Square, Somerville, or calling him at 776-8830.

Park Dept. Arts and Crafts Classes

What do fourth, fifth, and sixth grade girls do with their time on Saturday mornings? The answer is quite evident. They attend the winter arts and crafts program sponsored by the Arlington Park and Recreation Dept.

There are six areas that participate in this program. These areas are scattered throughout the town in order to accommodate all sections of the town.

The six recreational facilities are located at the Thompson, the Cutter, the Locke, the Dalling, the Hardy, and the Stratton schools. Competent college students instruct the girls in arts and crafts. At least one project is planned for each Saturday morning session.

Among the materials available to the girls are: mosaic tiles, plaster of paris, crepe paper, potholder looms, construction paper, popsicle sticks and aluminum kits. The girls are carefully guided in working with these materials. Some of the most popular projects have been tile ash trays, jewelry boxes, Christmas molds, and Christmas wreaths.

In addition to arts and crafts, the girls participate in a wide variety of games with volley ball and dodge ball being the most popular. Parties are also planned throughout the season. All areas have held their Thanksgiving and Christmas parties. The girls are looking forward to their next party on Valentine Day.

One of the highlights of the winter program is the trip to the M.D.C. skating rink in Belmont. This trip is tentatively scheduled for January. In the past years, this trip has been so popular that the Park and Recreation Department has scheduled a return visit.

The Saturday morning arts and crafts program is a wonderful opportunity for fourth, fifth, and sixth grade girls to acquire both skills and friendship. The classes are held from 9 to 11:45 and are free of charge.

Lt. Collier took part in the maneuvers as part of a program to maintain the year-round combat effectiveness of his unit.

The 23-year-old officer, a platoon leader in the company near Hanau, entered the Army in September 1964. He is a 1959 graduate of Arlington High school and a 1964 graduate of Northeastern University.

Locals Attend Bentley Leadership Conference

Four Arlington residents were among more than 200 business leaders attending the leadership conference at Bentley College, Boston.

The event was held at the College's new 102-acre Waltham campus, a $25 million development program which is expected to be ready for occupancy in 1968.

The Arlington residents included William F. Staples Jr., of School st.; W. Alan Morton, Oldham rd.; D. Francis Mahoney of Windmill lane; and Dorothy R. Latsey of Aerial st.

Miss Latsey is assistant comptroller at the Analex Corporation in Boston, and formerly president of the Women's Chapter of the Bentley College Alumni Ass'n. Mahoney is president and treasurer of the Mahoney Corporation, Esquire Homes, Inc. Morton is vice-president and controller of the Bolter Company of Boston. Staples is an executive of the Eddy-Rucker-Nickels company of Cambridge. He is also a member of the board of directors of the Bentley College Alumni Ass'n.

Mrs. Morton and Mrs. Mahoney accompanied their husbands to the day-long program.

The entire group made an extensive tour of the new campus, and took part in the day-long program, a colloquy of faculty and students who outlined Bentley's program in the liberal arts and professional areas.

Plan ahead for that next stop at a crossroad, says Registrar of Motor Vehicles Richard E. McLaughlin. On snowy or icy roads, this means starting to stop sooner. Bear in mind that heavy traffic at intersections packs and polishes ice and snow to a deadly glaze. Pump brakes rapidly for a smoother, safer stop on slippery surfaces.

Local Man Plans New York Exhibit

An exhibit of photographs by Stephen B. Gersh will be shown in January at Gallery 216, located at 216 East 75th st. in New York. Gersh was born and educated in Arlington.

In 1963, an exhibition of his photographs entitled "Thirty-five Photographic Images" was held in the gallery of Robbins library. At that time, he discussed the development of photography as a serious and aesthetic medium, and said that it was growing in acceptance by the general public as an art form.

Gersh studied philosophy and theater at Syracuse University and spent two summers learning both aesthetic and technical skills as an assistant to Ansel Adams.
